As part of strengthening the agency's advocacy, the Schools Division Office of Alaminos City through the DepEd Alaminos City Performing Arts Society has been committed to joining theater arts that promote such. Led by Dr. Lorna G. Bugayong, Schools Division Superintendent, Mdm. Rosario O. Cabrera, Assistant Schools Division Superintendent, and Dr. Orlando I. Guerrero, CID Chief and Production Director of DepEd Alaminos City Performing Arts Society, the organization exhibited dedication and prowess in various virtual and face-to-face performances as well as shone in various competitions.

Despite the existing health crisis, the group has been preparing for various theatrical performances through various virtual and social media platforms. Behind the success of every musical play produced by the group is the implementation of the strategic plans designed by the group. The group had its shooting where each member actively exercised his/her responsibility which turned the play into a lauded performance. In the morning, a general rehearsal was conducted while the set design team organized the props and backdrops. In the evening, the final rehearsal and shooting were done. The usual support and dedication of SDO Alaminos City and the teacher-performers boost the advocacy on sustaining culture-based education. The steadfastness of every person in every delegated task bears the multitude of success of the group. As the group steps to wider horizons, more projects, plans, and activities are lined up that will surely promote cultural and social awareness. Being part of the advocacy truly starts in the community; thus, theater arts that start in the locality reach more students and a wider audience.

The group, known for their patriotic and historical performances, successfully conveyed their advocacies such as women's rights, anti-corruption, against extrajudicial killing, and making a stand.

Despite facing the challenges of the pandemic, Tanghalang Tatsulok continued to pursue their passion for arts by facilitating online workshops to enhance their members' skills. In July 2020, the group had its first-ever partnership during the pandemic producing online performances like inspirational videos, online fundraising events, Vatan: Isang Alamat, and Kagitingan sa Daloy ng Panahon. Moreover, Tanghalang Tatsulok's long-running Labo-Laboratoryo series was remounted online and live featuring Impersonator and The Interview.
